Practice

Thomas was born in Kent and his early intention was to join his father's family tradition of farriery and blacksmithing. However, at the age of sixteen he discovered the option of a career at the Bar. From that moment his sights were set and he has never looked back.

Thomas studied law at the University of Dundee and graduated with Upper Second Class Honours. He sat the Bar Vocational Course at the Inns of Court School of Law. He was called to the Bar by Gray's Inn during the Autumn of 1995. He completed twelve months as a chancery pupil at 11 New Square, Lincoln's Inn. He then elected to develop an expertise in criminal work.

Thomas has formed a strong criminal defence practice in Kent and the South East. He also appears on the CPS Advocates Panel. He has forged an excellent reputation. His experience is extensive and embraces all areas of criminal work. He is known for his assiduous preparation, excellent client-skills and ability to present cases in a persuasive and incisive manner.

Thomas's recent trial history is as follows:
